The Senior Class
of
Andover High School
presents the 1960

Indanno

Andover High School, Andover,

FOREWORD

The class of 1960 is the first to graduate after spending the entire three years of high school in the new building.

We feel something of the strong bond which exists among friends who have grown to maturity together.

May this bond strengthen and endure throughout the years.

WE, THE CLASS
OF 1960
ARE PLEASED TO DEDICATE
OUR YEARBOOK TO

MR. PAUL A. HOPKINS

in appreciation of the active interest he has always taken in our welfare. Most of us became acquainted with Mr. Hopkins when we were sophomores and felt the need of help and re-assurance in our new surroundings. In this, and in many other ways, he encouraged us when we most needed him. His friendship and assistance have continued during our junior and senior years, and he has never regarded any of our problems — either personal or scholastic — as too trivial for his attention. His advice has always been sound.

We hope that this dedication will express, in a small way, the affection and gratitude which the Class of 1960 feels toward Mr. Hopkins.

Our cheerful and efficient cafeteria staff

Looking for something?

Good Morning!

Step up here and say that!

Where AB crosses the diagonal PM

"... and think of the money you'll save!"

"Let's face it class, the world's a mess."

"... power Mr. Garrison?"

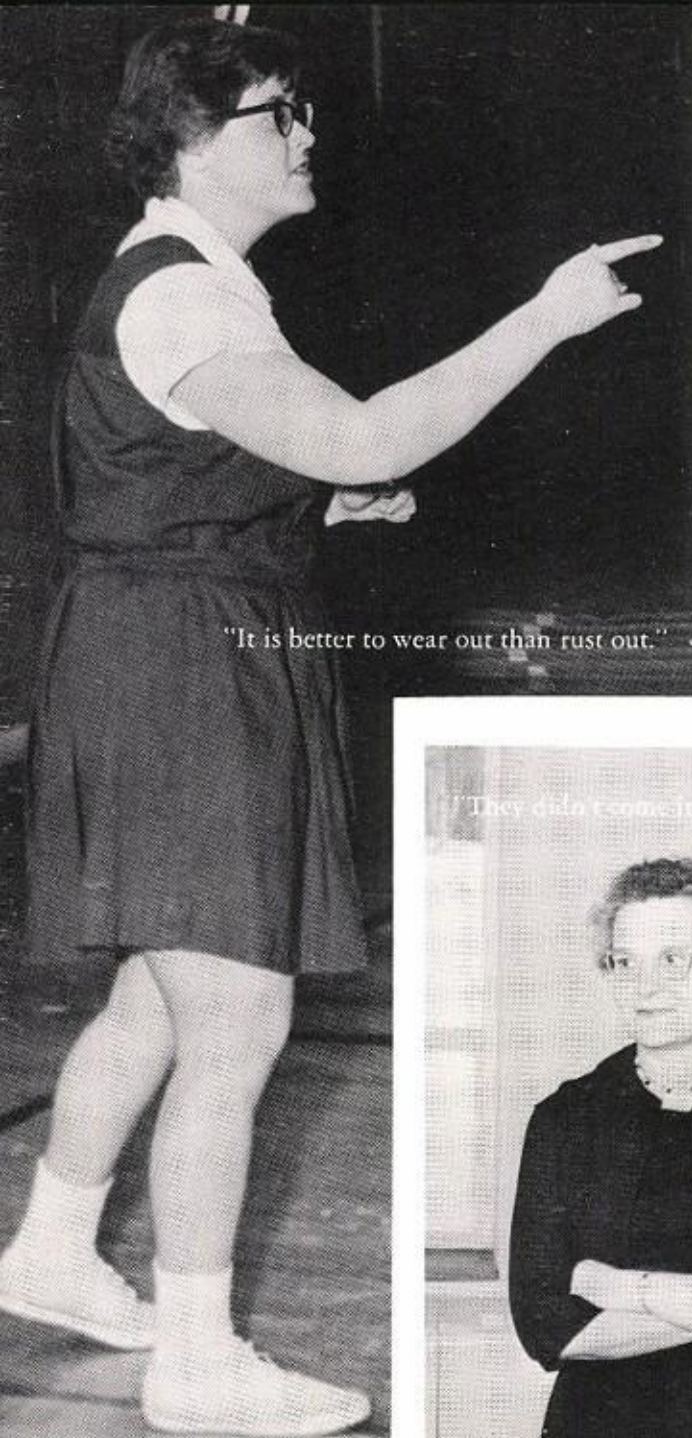

"In centimeters?"

FACULTY
CANDIDS

"... Er'ra, Miss Trowbridge?"

"It is better to wear out than rust out."

"Very good, but what about?"

"Don't flip that switch!"

"They didn't come in that form."

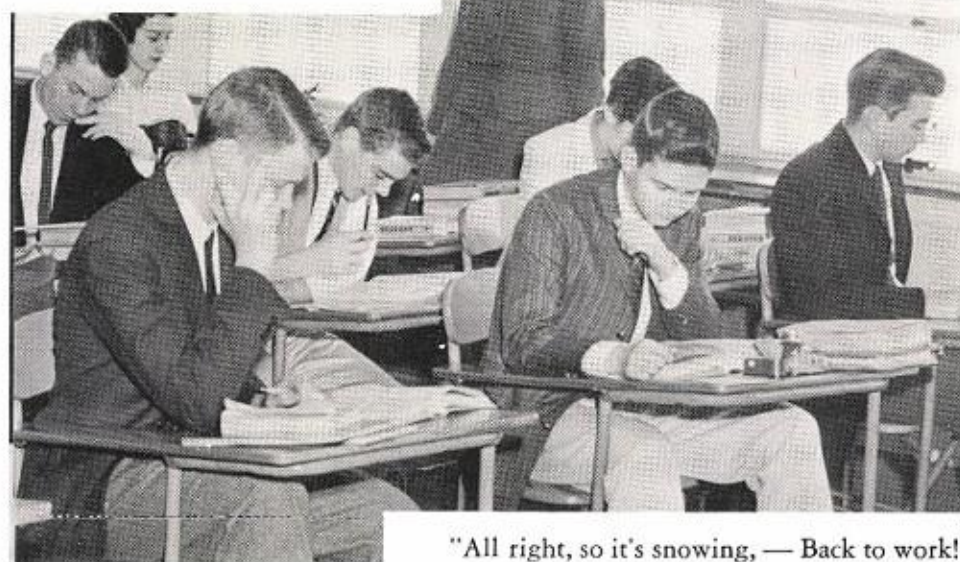

"We have just received your College Board scores."

Future teachers?

"The cube root of 0."

"All right, so it's snowing, — Back to work!"

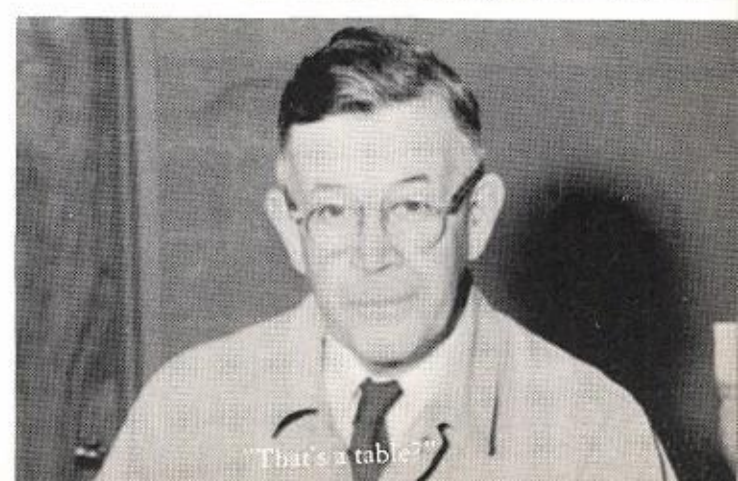

"2000 words a minute?"

"Has anyone seen my glasses?"

Smith? Vassar? Mt. Holyoke? Radcliffe?

"That's a table?"

"i'm a swingin senior name? just Jackson
sure i've got hobbies
i really grab buzzing in the corridors especially during period a i read poetry—usually e. e. cummings even write some—shh!
favorite pad?—a.h.s.
oh, you mean like 'the barn, the den', sometimes 'central' and 'woody's'
if i feel way out even the movies

CLASS HISTORY

The sophomore year was a startling change for the Class of 1960. We were the first class that did not attend Punchard High School; and we entered Andover High School doubly confused — first as sophomores, and second as new students in a strange school. Perhaps we were fortunate; for, since our upperclassmen were just as bewildered as we were, there was less of the traditional sophomore teasing.

Led by our class officers Jack Van Nest, president; Dick Workman, vice president; Judy Karlis, secretary; Lynn Johnson, treasurer; Meredy Manning, social committee chairman; we proved to AHS that we were both a versatile and hardworking class. During the sophomore year, we sponsored a class dance which was the biggest in the history of the school. The dance greatly increased the treasury, because of the new policy: each sophomore had to pay admission, whether or not he attended the dance. To raise more money for future activities, we also held a bakery sale. The Class of 1960 spent a busy sophomore year, gaining recognition in scholastic and athletic fields and participating in various extracurricular activities.

Upperclassmen, at last, we began junior class activities by selecting our class rings, with Janet Lord as committee chairman. The class voted for gold rings with round blue stones; and although they were late in arriving, they were well worth the long wait. Under the direction of our junior class officers Jack Van Nest, president; Lynn Johnson, vice president; Debbie Newcomb, secretary; Sherry Cutler, treasurer; Marilyn DeMoor, social committee chairman; we launched several successful activities including two dances, a bakery sale, and the sale of hand made Christmas jewelry.

Our biggest undertaking was the Junior Prom. Janet Lord and Lynn Johnson were prom co-chairmen; and because of their efforts and those of the prom planning board and the many hardworking committees, Rhapsody in Blue will be an unforgettable memory for the Class of 1960. Highlights of the evening were the almost successful dry ice fountain; the election of Janet Lord, queen of the prom; and the after prom entertainment at the Hillview Country Club. Certainly, the wonderful time that everyone had at the prom fully rewarded the assiduous committees.

In our junior year, the National Honor Society inducted a larger number of junior members than ever before. We had many classmates who achieved success in various fields: Al Carlson became the Greater Lawrence Wrestling Champion; Doug Robertson was the winner of the Safe Driving Rodeo; Fred Allen became Mr. Touchdown; Norma Jean Peatman spent the year in Austria as an exchange student; Roger Roberge won first prize in the Goldsmith Speaking Contest; Sheila Lawlor took second place in the Barnard Essay Contest; several art students won Gold Keys in the Boston Globe Art Contest. There were many other outstanding students; and as a class, we lived up to our reputation as capable and industrious students.

Many activities occupied our senior year, along with the rush of college and job applications. Our class officers were Lynn Johnson, president; Paul Durant, vice president; Debbie Newcomb, secretary; Mary Costello, treasurer; Annalee Johnson, social committee chairman. A class council composed of class officers and a representative from each homeroom carried on class business and eliminated the holding of frequent class meetings.

The biggest senior project was the yearbook. Mary Costello and Jack Van Nest were elected co-editors-in-chief, and then the work began. There were many new ideas for the 1960 Andanno, and the yearbook committee put in long hours to make our yearbook a lasting memory of our class at AHS.

Since we were an ambitious class, we decided, after much discussion, not only to stage a senior production, an annual event for the past few years, but also to resume the former AHS tradition of presenting a senior play. This was such a successful arrangement, that, undoubtedly, it will become a new AHS tradition. With Judy Scott as play chairman, the senior class produced "I Remember Mama." The play was a wonderful experience for those in the cast and those working behind the scenes; it was also a great boost to our poor senior treasury.

The senior production, with Bob Twigg as chairman, was also a success. The theme was a college weekend, the night before and the night after the big football game of the season. One of the attractions of this theme was that the entire cast was on stage during the production, which made it as enjoyable for the cast as it was for the audience.

The senior year, full of activity, flew by quickly. Senior chapel, the class picnic, class night, and, finally, our solemn graduation itself marked the end of the three years the Class of 1960 spent at AHS.

SENIOR CLASS LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Friends, classmates, and whoever this document may concern: you have been summoned here as beneficiaries under the last will and testament of the Class of 1960 of Andover High School, Andover, Massachusetts.

Be it remembered that we, the Class of 1960, of Andover High School, Town of Andover, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make this our last will and testament, revoking all wills by us at any time heretofore made.

... We leave all our debts to the sophomore class.

Jack Van Nest bequeaths his calm temperament to Mr. Hixon.

Beverly Bergeron leaves all those awakening trips every morning on the school bus to June McCarthy.

Annalee Johnson leaves Boston Hill to Reggie Cardella.

Peter Baker leaves his interest in guns to Eddie Skinner.

Jo Anne Essiambre leaves her pair of stilts to Jonathan Langdell.

Jack Clarke will receive all the homework papers of Jill Clarke.

David Babine herewithin bequeaths the back seat of his Ford to Elaine Emmons.

Attention Wendy Sandberg: you are now the owner of Linda Low's gym sneakers.

Susan Slade generously leaves the Make-Up and Lay-Out Committees to Peter Winn.

Peggy Mauck consented to leave her sunshine (in a bottle) to Leslie Donnell.

Bob Karlis will bequeath a bass voice, courtesy of Susan Goldman.

Dick Mahoney leaves his dirty bucks to someone with a large bottle of Lestoil and a lot of patience.

Lorna Marruzzi will leave her cello to Sylvia Bernard.

Raymond Francis Kryzynski bequeaths his name to Wayne Smith.

Mary Costello leaves her contact lenses to Charlene Benedetti.

Roger Roberge leaves his lunch in the art room.

Emily Yorshis will leave her green eyes to anyone who wants to be a cool cat.

To Kathy St. Germain goes the gym ability of Karen Sears.

Sheila Lawlor wills her many and varied pocketbooks to Kathy O'Shea.

Pat Coffman leaves a bottle of Pepsi to any gloomy soul who needs more bounce to the ounce.

Mike Frishman leaves his boots for someone else to shake in Latin.

Walter Winn generously bestows his skates upon Duffy Morgan.

Marjorie Mazel leaves driving after 14 months to John Hajjar.

Brenda Landry leaves George in order to be with Dickie.

To Don DiGiovani, Bill Watson bequeaths his lemon—er—car that is.

Charlotte Hajj and Jimmy Lancaster leave their dark corners to Sharon Lyons and Jeff Willig.

Attention Martha White: just in case you run out, you will now own a big wad of bubble gum, compliments of Alice O'Connor.

Joan Deivert leaves her engagement ring to add to Sally Wallace's collection.

Barry Skiba leaves his elevator shoes to Mrs. Hatch.

To anyone who wants to get into college, Marvin Perry wills the Guidance Office.

Meredy Manning leaves all her shoes except her sneakers to anybody with enough feet.

Leonard Zecchini graciously consented to leave his red hat to Bob Northrup.

Lois Lyman prevailed upon her brother John to leave his blue Jag to Mr. Kellmurray.

Herb Kempton bestows his binary digital computer upon anyone who knows what it is.

Donna Anderson leaves all the phone calls she gets by mistake to Donnie Anderson.

Let it be known that John Toomey leaves his space in the parking lot to Mr. Eldridge when he gets his license.

Carolyn Grant bequeaths all her spicy history reports to Ann Morasse.

Carol Gesing leaves all the money from the Bay State Merchants National Bank to the needy class of '62.

Ellen Kfoury bequeaths all 38 of her cousins to John Hajjar (One of them).

Connie Westbrook leaves her enthusiasm in the Pep Club (North Andover) to Jane Simeone.

John McIntyre will now return all his Wyatt Earp vests to Wyatt Earp.

To George Miller goes a full package of Lucky Strikes from Elaine Morin.

Susan Shaw leaves her naive nature to Martha Zink.

"Cheezie" Menzie leaves North Andover High Victory Parties to the Andover High football team.

Robert Garrison wills his inquisitive mind to Dick Bourdelais.

Maureen Bailey may now have Charlotte Johnson's scissors.

A bottle of Miss Clairol goes to Fran Jordan, compliments of Judy Maxwell.

Jon Swenson herein bequeaths his great singing voice to Dave Currier and Al Comeau.

Dick Chetson leaves his owl glasses to anyone with eyes.

Ronnie Salvage has left membership blanks for his fan club to all underclassmen.

Debbie Newcomb leaves her blue sweater to any woman like Satan.

Ray Banks states that Mr. Hinckley may have his tie collection.

Priscilla Arnold leaves her place as Head Color Guard to Henry Peront.

Charlotte Bentley herein wills all the papers in her locker to Mr. Russell.

Karen Hutchinson's pixie haircut goes to Harlene Dennison.

Paul Durant, saying "See me later," leaves his wolf instinct.

John Ozoonian leaves his camels to Larry Bretts in hopes that they will multiply.

To Alan Savenelli goes Diane Moskal's motto of "Love 'em and leave 'em."

If there are any safecrackers in the junior class, they may have Kenny Young's locker.

Alice Lynch bequeaths her scrub brush to Mr. Symonds.

Lorraine Rees wills her long fingernails to Judy Wright.

Sherry Cutler bequeaths her deep voice to Donna Bennett.

Frank Monette will leave his car to Rock McGrath and Bill McCarthy to fight over.

To anyone who can drive a nail straight, Edward Fortuna wills the shop.

Potsi Leveroni leaves his sister to live and learn.

Donna Allen wills her Civil Air Patrol uniform to John Goddard.

Al Carlson has graciously consented to leave Coach Collins his smoking place in the woods.

Bill Dufton leaves Macartney's with the windows clean.

Jeff Stewart reluctantly leaves the barn.

Ann Henrick leaves Mr. Kellmurray to any ungrammatical junior.

To Gordon Stewart go the gentle ways of Danny Grecoe.

Bill Gallant wills his hair to Al Comeau.

Generously, Judy Scott bestows her screeching laugh upon Marion Morgan.

Walter Bleszinski leaves all his wisecracks to Mr. Zorn who left with them.

George Stern leaves the cheerleaders alone, at last.

Don Sorrie wills his temper to Peggy Williamson.

Bob Twigg states that Steve Whitney may have his skiing ability.

Holly Polihan, oops! Polly Holihan leaves Mr. Hopkins still confused.

Elinor Finnerty leaves her wealth of information to the office files.

To Leslie Scott, go the wild ways of Chuckie Smyth.

Barbara Berger wills her name to Adventure Car Hop with the hope that they will invent a sandwich called "The Barbara Berger."

To Bob Sandarg goes Anne Payne's southern accent.

It's not that Susan Mulvey doesn't have anything to leave. It's just that she'd rather leave it unsaid.

Paul Petzold bequeaths his comb upon Gordon "Kookie" Coutts.

George Dumont leaves his job in Johnny's Super Market to Rocky McGrath.

Wally Curran leaves his measurements to Teddy Burt.

Linda Johanson bestows her numerous extra curricular activities upon Jimmy Trombley.

Susan Carroll will receive all Mary Lou Dargoonian's gym excuses.

Judy Ober leaves the flying rings to Joan LeGendre.

Linda Black leaves her space in the parking lot to Joe Calcina.

Pete Stewart generously wills his French book to the guy who sits in the back seat with the seven little girls.

To Kay Berthold go Ann Churchill's marks in physics.

Suzanne Noury leaves her class musical to the Junior Sextet.

Bev Winters bequeaths her pony tail to Kathy St. Germain.

Linda Mitchell leaves her laugh and wiggle oops — giggle to Ellie Thompson.

Connie Stewart states that Ginny Jensen may have her smile.

George Whitcomb leaves his place in front of the lunch line to his father.

Audrey Dawes wills the A & P to Stop & Shop.

To Fred Myers goes Jimmy Leete's position as basketball bench warmer.

Jean Groleau leaves the 421 hours, 787 minutes, and 38 seconds she spent typing the yearbook to Dottie Miller.

Lynn Johnson wills his face of granite to the Old Man of the Mountain.

Marilyn DeMoor bestows upon Mr. Wormwood all her notices framed in gold.

Dick Workman leaves, taking all his Payola.

Brad Richards is leaving Andover High for the last time.

We hereunto set our hands, and in the presence of these witnesses, declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, on this, the seventeenth day of June in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and sixty.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Gary Dockray, president of the junior class, called the first class meeting to order on October 17, 1959. Virginia Bergeron was elected chairman of the newly appointed ring committee.

During the first half of our junior year, we sponsored a school dance and a talent assembly in which many participated. In February, the class elected co-chairmen for the Junior Prom to be held June 3, 1960. John Clarke and Virginia Jensen were elected co-chairmen of the Prom. At present, the members of the junior class are working very hard for the success of this event.

We, the class of 1961, hope to have a successful year at Andover High School as seniors.

This year has been very successful for the sophomore class. We have held three class meetings, sponsored three money making projects, including a bakery sale and two school dances. We also put on a talent assembly. Results of these projects were very encouraging, and repaid us for our hard work.

It has been quite a change for us coming from the Junior High to the high school, but we have adjusted well and taken great interest in all school activities. Our junior year lies ahead, and all of us are looking forward to it.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is a group of school leaders elected by the students to represent them in a student government. These pupils work side by side with the faculty to plan many school events and to give Andover High School an organized student government.

Top row, left to right: Lynn Johnson, William Dalton,

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

CREATIVE WRITING

Members of the Creative Writing Club have the opportunity of reading their original material before the entire group and profiting by the opinion of others. In this manner, they become more proficient in the important skill of creative writing.

STUDENT GUIDES

The Student Guides aid the faculty in acquainting visitors with Andover High School and orienting incoming sophomores, and new students.

PRESS CLUB

The Press Club is designed to keep the town of Andover informed of Andover High School news through the Andover Townsman. Articles are also sent to the Lawrence Evening Tribune to give pertinent news wide-spread coverage.

IN MEMORIAM

MERVIN E. STEVENS

We, were not privileged to know Mr. Stevens so well as had preceding classes at Punchard High School. We realized, through the brief acquaintance we had with him at Andover High School, that he merited the great esteem in which he was held as a dedicated teacher and a tireless worker. Especially outstanding in his service to our school were his contributions to dramatics — which comprised complete management of plays from staging and painting sets, to arranging royalties and coaching the production.

Mr. Stevens had high ideals; and these he brought into the classroom, where he expected and received a high standard of achievement from his students. His character was indeed exemplary; and he left our school an unparalleled record of devoted service and loyalty.

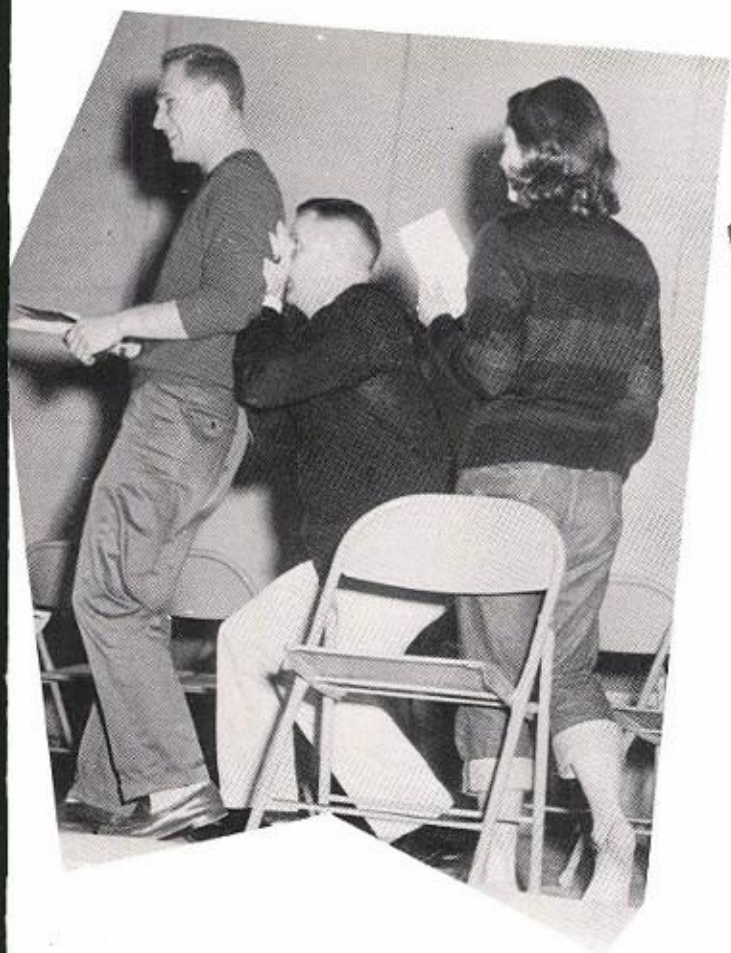

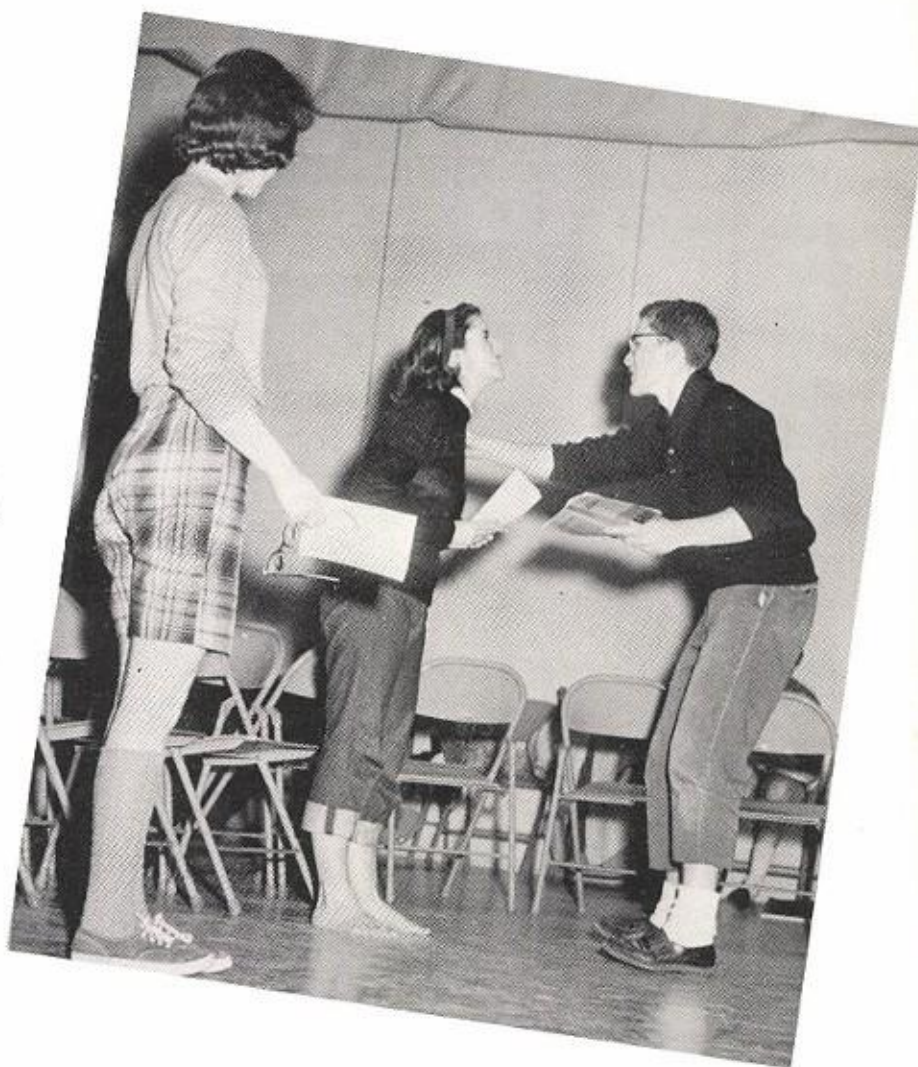

SENIOR CLASS PLAY DEDICATED TO MR. STEVENS

The Class of 1960 presented "I Remember Mama" on April first and second. The play, which was the first given in the new high school, was dedicated to the memory of our beloved Mr. Mervin Stevens who passed away last summer. The play was directed by Mr. Peter A. Soderbergh, and the cast included: Uncle Cris — Michael Frishman; Mama — Sheila Lawlor; Papa — Richard Workman; Mr. Hyde — Roger Roberge; Niles — John Van Nest; Bell Hop — George Stern; Mr. Thorkleson — Charles Glazerman; Soda Clerk — George Stern; Dr. Johnson — George Stern; Nurse — Alice O'Connor; Another nurse — Polly Holihan; 8 year old boy — Duffy Morgan; Christine — Susan Mulvey; Jenny — Linda Johanson; F. D. Moorhead — Jane Gilman; Jessie — Deborah Newcomb; Dagmar — Donna Anderson; Scrubwoman — Alice Lynch; Tina — Sheryl Hartford; Sigrid — Annalee Johnson; Madeline — Karen Hutchinson; Katrin — Jane Fitzgerald; Dorothy — Suzanne Noury.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

SENIOR PRODUCTION

The Annual Senior Production, directed by Mrs. Madeleine Simeone, was held on May 20 and 21. The theme was a typical college weekend held in the fall of the year, and the setting was a fraternity house of Andanno College.

There were two scenes: Friday night, the evening before the big football game of the year; and Saturday night, the victory party at the fraternity house.

SENIOR PRODUCTION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

MOSAIC

The MOSAIC serves an important purpose at Andover High School. For those who have creative ability, it is an outlet for original literary works, the best of which the MOSAIC publishes on its feature pages. Our athletic teams receive their share of glory through illustrated articles describing various sports events. School news, exchange articles, cartoons, features, and pictures are included. Because of the diligence of the editors and advisor Mr. Wormwood, our paper has become an important part of our school life. To some students, it gives credit for participation in AHS affairs; and, to all students, the MOSAIC offers enjoyable reading.

An inexperienced Andover High football team had their hands full with the strong opposition which they encountered in the Northeast Conference. The team looked promising against last year's Class 'B' champions; Swampscott. It was a close game all the way with Swampscott winning 12 to 6. In spite of the efforts and spirit of the team, they dropped games to Marblehead, Danvers, Woburn, Winthrop, and Amesbury. Andover's first game under the lights at Newburyport resulted in a 14 to 14 tie. In an all out effort, Andover was defeated in the second half by a strong Methuen team. On Thanksgiving Day, a huge crowd saw an underdog Andover team battle to a 6 to 6 tie against North Andover.

Fred Allen continually provided the scoring punch in Andover's backfield. Al, "Don Ameche," Carlson and captain Jack Van Nest turned in excellent performances in the backfield and line respectively. Next year, the novelty of being in a new league will be gone; and Coach Dick Collins is looking forward to a very successful season.

BASKETBALL

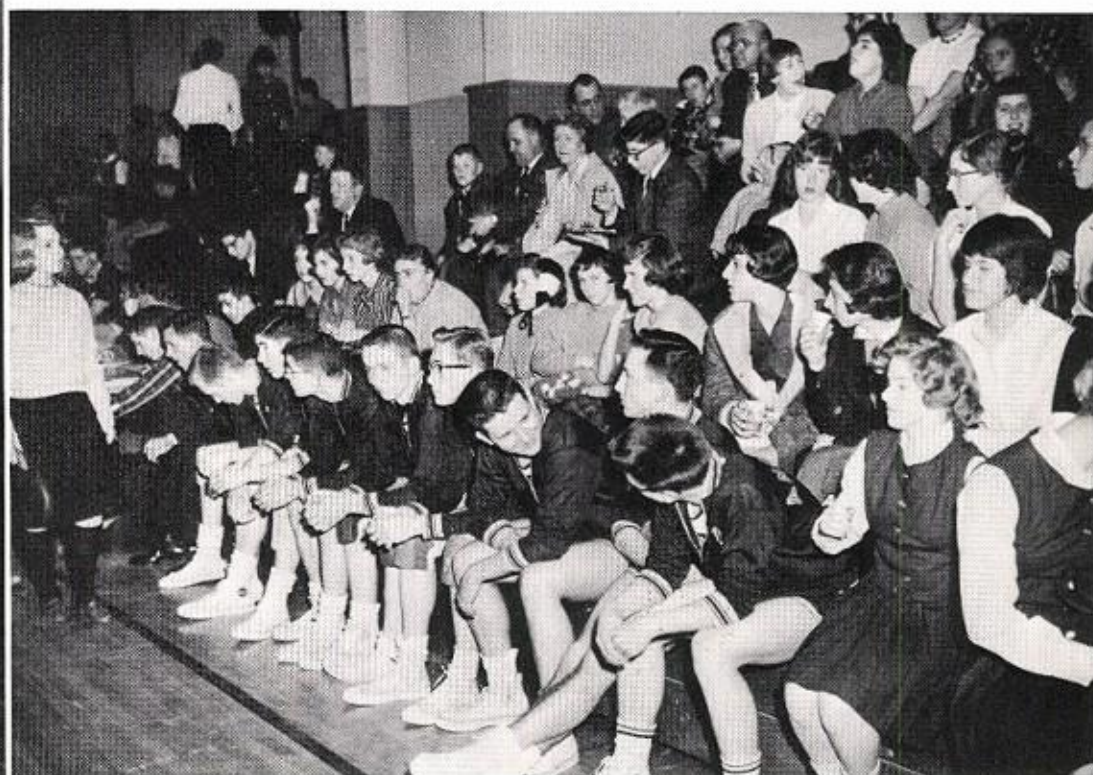

Andover High's basketball team finished the regular season strongly, winning 5 out of their last 6 games. The high point of the first half of the season was a 20 point victory over a favored North Andover squad. This was Andover's first win over North Andover since 1956.

Led by co-captain Don Sorrie, who recorded almost 300 points, Walt Bleszinski and co-captain Paul Durant, Andover finished fourth in the Northeast Conference competition. Andover's upset victory over Danvers in the closing games of the season resulted in a tie for first place in the league. The credit for our successful basketball season is due to the excellent coaching of Wilbur Hixon. His confidence in the team was rewarded by the spirit that both the players and student body displayed.
